I do want to proceed with the No Overnight Parking ordinance. Residents are having to go knock on doors to get people to move vehicles in order to get out of the subdivision.

Thanks,
Heather

Michelle,

Reverse course.

After speaking to the resident who reached out and looking at the follow up pictures that were sent, I do want to proceed with the No Overnight Parking. Residents are having to go knock on doors to get people to move vehicles in order to get out of the subdivision.

I remember the count was dead even, but do you recall how many residents did not return the survey at all?

I'll reply. Do you happen to know if this is a male or female?

Good morning, I live on Oaklawn Ridge Lane and recently we email petitions in regards to overnight parking. Talking to neighbors it seems overwhelming that we all voted for the signs but have yet to see any signs put up. Last night coming home I counted four cars on the street that were parked overnight. I will say the letters scared people for a few weeks but seems to not have any affect now.

When will we be seeing the signs?
